

It's Official! Steel Union Elects Abel

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The international tellers of the United Steelworkers (USW) today declared I. W. Abel the official winner in the union's presidential election. Incumbent President David J. McDonald said he would appeal the result.

The tellers said Abel had unseated McDonald by about 10,000 votes and that he carried his slate into office with him.

"The tellers have not, in fact, conducted a recount," McDonald said. "Nor have they investigated the charges of irregularities."

McDonald said he would appeal to the union's Executive Board. Asked whether he planned to appeal to the U.S. Department of Labor, McDonald said:

"We'll cross that bridge when we get to it." Abel, scheduled to take over the $50,000-a-year post June 1 when McDonald's third four-year term expires, said he would bargain "fairly, firmly and diligently" with the basic steel industry to prevent a strike Sept. 1.

"I wish to make some things clear," McDonald said at a news conference. "Under the constitution of the United Steelworkers of America, this report is the first but not the last word. The tellers... have a very limited function with respect to protests."

The tellers said they had, for various reasons, invalidated the ballots of 37 locals.

McDonald said he would appeal to the Executive Board which "can conduct a recount."

Expresses Profound Gratitude

At a news conference after the election announcement, Abel said he accepted the result with "profound gratitude." He added,

"We are prepared to bargain with the industry fairly, firmly and diligently so that a mutually satisfactory final settlement can be negotiated prior to Sept. 1. There will be no need for another crisis in steel if the companies share our faith in the process of genuine collective bargaining."

IN TRUNK OF SARANZAK CAR

Black Box Had $97,000 In Cash

By CHARLES MCGURK
Courier-Times Staff Writer

What was in that black box in the trunk of Nicholas Saranzak's car Wednesday night that caused the tussle between police and Saranzak's family?

A reliable source today disclosed that $97,000 in cash was in the box.

At the time of his arrest, Saranzak had at least another 1,000 in his wallet.

Saranzak of Croydon, awaiting a hearing on six charges including involuntary manslaughter, was the driver of the car that crashed into a stop sign was hurled through the air striking and killing George H. Kurtz Jr. as he was preparing to burn trash in an incinerator on the side lawn of his home at Newportville and Power Ave.

Saranzak was pronounced intoxicated by a physician at Lower Bucks County Hospital and the results of a blood test, released today, indicate he had more than the allowable limit of alcohol in his blood stream for driving a motor vehicle.

The unusual accident provided quite an indoctrination into police work for Jack Farris, a recent appointee to the township's police rearmament.

Scheduled to start an eight-week stint at the Philadelphia Police Academy yesterday, Farris was looking forward to a routine patrol on Wednesday which would end as scheduled at 10 p.m.

The accident was a real taste of police work for the former mechanic. When the call came to Farris, patrolling with Officer William Thompson, both thought it was a routine collision.

Arriving at Newportville Road and Power Ave., they found anything but a routine assignment. (Continued on Page 26, Col. 4)

But McDonald Won At Fairless

David J. McDonald may have lost the bitterly disputed battle for presidency of the United Steelworkers of America, but in the Feb. 9 election he took the Fairless Works.

Trooping to the polling places in record numbers, Fairless steelworkers gave the nod to McDonald by a slim 261 votes. McDonald garnered 2,279 votes to 2,018 for I. W. Abel. Sixty-six per cent of the plant's steelworkers voted.

The McDonald victory was seen by many as an upset.

Good Evening!

Mercury reaching for the 80's today.

Spring's finally come. Very soon now our good old suburbia should be fully abloom.

Suburbia — this is where you're always running a race with the grass, the weeds, the flowers, the shrubbery and you just never seem to win.

Another 1200 U.S. Marines landed in the Dominican Republic, ostensibly to protect American and foreign nationals and to help in their evacuation.

But our guess is that Uncle Sam is getting ready to prevent a Commie takeover in the civil war torn little country where leftist President Juan Bosch is trying to return to power after being kicked out. The idea, it may be assumed, is that we want no more Cubas in the Caribbean.

Heavy earthquake jolts the Pacific Northwest, killing at least two people, injuring many more in at least four states and British Columbia and causing widespread property damage.

Considering the Midwest floods and tornadoes of the past few weeks and now the temblor, isn't it about time for Ma Nature to settle down — at least until the hurricane season?

Well sir, there he is on top of the heap, is Arnold Palmer, as he shoots a 66 to lead the first round of the $75,000 Las Vegas Tournament of Champions.

This could be the Latrobe tiger's weekend.

And after a disastrous meeting with the Giants, our Phils take on Milwaukee tonight.

Maybe now we can get a real winning streak going?

A man who can see both sides of a question isn't much good in a serious argument.

Small boy to his friend: "I may be unconstitutional, but I always pray before a test."

Prior to the voting, even some of the staunchest McDonald supporters were ready to concede defeat.

Three of the four Fairless locals went for McDonald, including the 5,000-member Local 4889 the plant's largest. McDonald's victory in the local surprised many observers. Abel had won the local's endorsement in nominating elections two months previously, and the local's president, Frank Dzurinko, was a strong Abel man.

Local 5092, clerical and technical workers, gave its vote to Abel. The local's president, John Tesaro, was an active McDonald supporter.

The two locals from the National Tube Division — 5116 and 5030 — voted for McDonald.

Population Boom—Quick

HENNEPIN, Ill. (UPI)—Hennepin was getting ready for the big time today.

This tiny, one-chair barber shop town was picked Thursday by the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. in far off Pittsburgh to be the site of a $600 million steel plant.

Hennepin, population 391, was flabbergasted when it heard the news.

"This has hit us like a brick," said Erie Bassi, cashier at the Putnam County Bank.

Employ 6,000

The new steel plant, believed to be the largest industrial facility planned in the Midwest in the past half century, will start going up next year on a stretch of land just north of here. The plant's area will be 10 times as great as the town of Hennepin itself.

The steel company said the plant will employ 6,000 workers. It figures to draw related industries that could boost employment opportunities to 15,000.

The whole population of Putnam County, of which Hennepin is the county seat, is only about 6,000.

A Nice Day To Play Golf

Spring bubbled over in Lower Bucks today as temperatures headed into the mid 70s under bright, sunny skies. At 3 p.m. the thermometer reading was 73.

Fair weather was expected through the weekend, but a weak cold front coming through the area tonight may drop temperatures a bit. Tomorrow's high is expected between 65-70.

Warm winds today prompted local fire officials to caution residents in burning trash as flying sparks could spread fire to adjoining areas.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States pressed its Western Hemisphere allies today to take up immediately the task of saving lives and restoring peace and order in the revolt-torn Dominican Republic.

Officials said that, under action by the Organization of American States, Washington would welcome quick participation by the troops of other American nations in the Dominican rescue operation.

Another Cabinet-level meeting—the second in 12 hours—was held at the White House this morning. No details were announced immediately.

In a midnight session running into the early hours of today, the OAS Council called a consultative meeting here at the foreign minister level for Saturday morning — a day later than the United States had asked for — but with a prospect of quick new action.

In the night session the OAS also passed a resolution:

1. Calling on all factions involved in the bloody and riotous violence in the Dominican capital.

Barry Approves Marine Landings

MADRID (UPI) — Former Republican presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater said today he approved President Johnson's decision to send the Marines into Santo Domingo. He stressed the effectiveness of "big stick" diplomacy.

The former Arizona senator, in a news conference said: "Yes, I approve the landing of the Marines in Santo Domingo for the protection of American lives and property."

tal, Santo Domingo, to seek an immediate cease-fire.

2. Appealing for establishment of an international zone of refuge in the embassy area of the capital where six embassies, including that of the United States, were attacked and one, that of El Salvador, was sacked and burned.

Behind the scenes here there is continuing deep concern of the extent to which the rebellion, which originally developed a week ago, has fallen under the leadership of various pro-Castro elements.

The hope for dealing with this aspect of the situation, however, appears to lie in the strategy of restoring law and order under international sponsorship in such a way that the Dominican people themselves will have an opportunity to set up a new regime along democratic lines.

As the OAS was meeting the State Department announced that two battalions, totaling 2,

500 troops, of the Army's 82nd Airborne Division were landing at San Isidro Air Base near Santo Domingo to reinforce the 1,700 Marines already involved in the task of saving several thousand Americans and other foreign citizens from the wanton attacks of armed bands roaming the city.

The State Department announcement pictured the capital of 350,000 people as being in a state of anarchy.

"Law and order have ceased to exist," it said. "Calls for cease-fire have thus far been ignored."

"The U.S. Embassy has been under fire throughout the day. Several other embassies have also been attacked. The evacuation area itself has come under fire. The death toll among Dominicans continues to rise."

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker told representatives of the Western Hemisphere countries on the OAS Council that the United States wanted to turn over to the organization as quickly as possible full responsibility for dealing with the situation but that meanwhile it had to act on its own to save lives.

In spite of the fact that Latin American countries traditionally rise in wrath against U.S. military intervention in any other country in this hemisphere, officials reported the situation in the Dominican Republic is so extraordinary, the need for protection of innocent people so obvious, that the atmosphere in the OAS meeting was on the whole friendly to U.S. policy.

The officials pointed out that the resolution setting up the meeting on Saturday was adopted by 18 votes with only the Dominican Republic representatives abstaining and Uruguay voting negatively. The resolution asking for a cease-fire and formation of an international zone of refuge was adopted by a vote of 16 in favor, none opposed, with four abstentions, based on the technical arguments that such business should wait for the Saturday session. Bunker emphasized in his speech that the assigned role of (Continued on Page 26, Col. 1)

Viet Troops Grab Guerrilla Arsenal

SAIGON (UPI) — Government troops today captured a guerrilla arsenal of about 1,000 brand new rifles and machineguns in the Mekong Delta and then repulsed a ferocious Viet Cong counterattack aimed at recovering the precious stores.

In the air war U.S. Navy planes bombed and strafed a North Vietnamese arsenal only 75 miles south of Hanoi and attacked an ammunition depot 15 miles further south. Fifteen buildings were destroyed and seven damaged in the two raids which left the area in flames.

In another effort to cut off Viet Cong supplies the United States ordered 17 high speed Coast Guard cutters and 200 men to South Viet Nam to join the battle against seaborne infiltration of Communist men and arms. It is the first war service for the Coast Guard since Korea.

U.S. Army Capt. Carrol D. Keeter of Franklin, Va., disclosed today he accidentally started a forest fire in the Minh (black) forest, a well-known guerrilla hideout, and that the U.S. Air Force has fed it since with napalm. He said about 150 square miles had been destroyed.

Major Sweep

The arms cache was discovered today during a major government sweep aimed at clearing the Viet Cong from the Mekong Delta. The Kien Hoa Province operation began Wednesday with a combined amphibious and helicopter-borne assault against a suspected Viet Cong training area.

Greene Says We Can Win

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., Marine Corps Commandant, said today he was "absolutely convinced" that the Communists could be defeated in Viet Nam.

Returning from a six-day inspection trip in the Far East, Greene said if the Viet Cong want to attack the big American base at Da Nang, "Just let 'em try it... they will find some Marines there... we are going to stay in Da Nang."

The diminutive head of the Marine Corps said that the situation in Viet Nam "looks pretty serious to me."

He referred to the difficulty of operating in the mountains, thick jungles, over tough trails and in temperatures above 100 degrees. But, he added, "We're had tough problems in the Marine Corps before."

Speaking of the anti-guerrilla war generally, he said at one point that "if we want to, we can handle this problem." Questioned on that statement, he added that "I don't say we don't want to."

Convention Had Everything — Bombings, Strafings, Gunfire

By PAUL ALTAIRE
Courier-Times Staff Writer

"I was never so happy to see a U.S. Marine like I was Tuesday."

Those were the words of Gerald G. Moyer of 19 Hollow Road, Highland Park, Levittown, who never dreamed that a three-day convention would include bombings, strafings and gunfire—or that he would be among hundreds of Americans evacuated from the Dominican Republic.

Moyer, an application engineer for Honeywell Inc., was attending a convention of the District Caribbean and Master Brewers Association of America. The Honeywell firm manufactures equipment used by association members.

Here is the story as Moyer related it after returning home to Lower Bucks Wednesday night:

"We were having lunch at a country club on the outskirts of Santo Domingo when word reached us that a rebellion was in progress.

"There were businessmen from the country among our group and they made light of it and said, 'We have rebellions every few months—they last a few days—then everything goes back to normal.'"

"More Serious

"But these same businessmen later on also became alarmed when they realized the situation was more serious than it has been in previous incidents," Moyer explained.

"Soon we were taken back downtown to our hotel. The (Continued on Page 26, Col. 1)

Gerald G. Moyer, who was caught in the middle of the rebellion in the Dominican Republic, is happy to read about it in the Courier-Times—back home in Lower Bucks of course.

Cleared Of Conspiracy

Lawyer Convicted Of $3,139 Fraud

Attorney Joseph V. Cygan of Doylestown was convicted yesterday of fraudulent conversion by a Bucks County Criminal Jury.

It took the jury five hours to decide that Cygan, 35, had used for his own purpose $3,139 belonging to a client.

Rittenhouse Still In Race

E. Stanley Rittenhouse has won his fight to stay on the ballot in the four-way race for the Republican nomination for Bucks County controller.

Judge Lawrence A. Monroe ruled yesterday the county commissioners challenged Rittenhouse candidacy too late.

The commissioners, sitting as the board of election, maintained Rittenhouse did not meet residency requirements. They sought to have his name removed from the ballot because Rittenhouse would not have lived in the county for the length of time required — one year prior to the November general election.

By March 16 But the judge said the commissioners should have petitioned the court by March 16 — one week after the filing date for nomination petitions.

Rittenhouse, 27, who lives in Doylestown Township, last year was treasurer for the Bucks County Citizens for Goldwater.

He appeared before Judge Monroe last Monday without a lawyer. The judge heard Rittenhouse's argument in chambers.

After the meeting, Rittenhouse told a reporter that early this year he had been told by the board of election he was required to live in the county only two months prior to the May 18 primary. He moved from Hatboro to Doylestown Township in February.

On May 18 he will run against Sheldon A. Chaiken of Warminster; Fred E. Ziegler of Trevoise and Arthur M. Nicholson of Levittown.

Man Acquitted In Fatal Crash

A 21-year-old Parkland motorist was acquitted by a Bucks jury this week of involuntary manslaughter charge stemming from the death of a Langhorne man last September.

Cleared of criminal negligence was Kenneth Pinch, 1638 Winter St. Pinch was the driver of the car which struck Edward McShane outside his home at 1245 Old Lincoln Highway the afternoon of Sept. 20.

McShane, 45, had just left his parked tow truck when he was struck from behind, police reported. Pinch was treated for multiple abrasions when he lost control of his car, hit an embankment and turned the car over on its roof. His auto was totally destroyed.

Mrs. John Stone of 54 Butternut Road, Blue Ridge, Levittown, is thankful volunteer firemen at Levittown Fire Co. No. 2 "teach children in school about fire prevention."

A letter from Mrs. Stone in today's mailbag told of the family's visit last Sunday to Mt. Carmel to visit Mrs. Stone's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Roney.

"My daughter, Rita Ann, who is 11 years old," Mrs. Stone wrote, "saved our family from disaster by fire."

The girl awoke at 5 a.m. last Sunday to find the house filled with dense smoke. Groping her way to the third floor where her parents were sleeping, Rita Ann aroused them.

"Although sick and dizzy from the smoke," Mrs. Stone wrote, "Rita Ann felt her way down to the second floor where her two brothers and baby sister were sleeping."

Gathering them together, Rita Ann put David, 8, James, 5 and Anna Mae, 2, out on the roof and handed them down to firemen who had arrived on the scene.

The youngsters, along with Rita Ann, were treated for smoke inhalation and burning eyes by a Mt. Carmel rescue squad.

After the fire was put out, Rita Ann broke down and cried, her mother related. "I am very happy and grateful to be alive and very, very

The jury of seven women and five men, however, acquitted Cygan of conspiracy.

Sentencing Deferred Judge James W. Cullen deferred sentencing Cygan pending a motion for a new trial by his lawyer, Vincent A. Cirillo.

Bail was renewed at $500. Also held on the same bail on fraudulent conversion and conspiracy charges is Cygan's former law partner, Jonathan D. Dunn. Dunn is scheduled for trial next month.

Throughout the trial, Cygan said he never intended to defraud his clients, Woodrow and Lyman Snyder. He said that he was unaware his firm's account was depleted in May of 1964 and he was drawing on his clients' money.

Trusted Partner Dunn, Cygan said, kept the books and had made nearly all the withdrawals. He said he signed checks in blank for Dunn because he trusted his partner.

First Assistant District Attorney Ward F. Clark, who prosecuted Cygan, maintained all along Cygan knew he was defrauding his client. He contrasted Cygan's statements to himself and District Attorney William J. Carlin last Nov. 11 after Snyder had complained to the D.A.

Clark produced Cygan's statements that he knew the firm's bank account was depleted and that he and Dunn had used the Snyders' money to pay bills and for other expenses.

15-Year-Old Boy Missing A 15-year-old Bristol boy who was last seen wearing a black-leather jacket was reported missing since April 24 to Bristol Borough police.

Sgt. Michael Manto identified the boy as Thomas Walanski of 715 Wood St. His mother reported him missing on April 25.

Police described the boy as white, male, 6' 1", 140 lbs., blue eyes, blond hair and very light complexioned.

Police said he may have run away from home. He is a 9th grade student at Bristol High School.

Sgt. Manto said that anyone with information about the missing boy should call Bristol Police at ST 8-7811.

Tape Recorder, Radio Stolen

Burglars yesterday broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley E. Hume of 147 Holly Drive, Levittown, and made off with a tape recorder and pocket transistor radio.

Bristol Township police said the theft took place between 10:30 a.m. and 1:20 p.m. while Mrs. Hume was shopping.

Two Admit Taking Rings

Three juveniles were apprehended yesterday by Lower Southampton Township police for shoplifting inexpensive rings from Woolworth's Department store in the Feasterville Shopping Center.

Police said the shoplifting incidents occurred three or four times this week. Two of the youths are from Pennard and the third, from Feasterville.

Officer Walter Grosse stopped two boys for questioning when he saw them hitchhiking in the township, yesterday.

When the youths emptied their pockets upon the officer's request, the rings were discovered.

They admitted taking the rings this week and implicated the third youth.

The youths were released to the custody of their parents pending further action.

At Bucks College

Dr. Stedman To Be English Professor

The appointment of Dr. William Stedman as professor of English and Communication at Bucks County Community College was announced today by Dr. Charles E. Rollins, president.

Dr. Stedman has held faculty and administrative positions at the University of Southern California (USC), Rollins College, and the University of Florida.

At USC he was assistant to the president. He is acquainted with community college work through his experience with Orlando Junior College in Florida and in his current position on the faculty of Nassau Community College in Nassau Island, Dr. Rollins said.

First Candidate Dr. Stedman received a Ph.D. degree from USC in 1959. He was the first doctoral candidate in the university's Division of Communication. Dr. Stedman

Falls Warns On Junked Cars

Following up its anti-litter campaign, Falls Township officials announced today a concentrated drive to clear junked cars from the street.

Police Commissioner Robert Arrowood announced that, effective immediately, Falls police will ticket all cars parked on the street without licenses or which cannot be moved.

Failure to remove such vehicles will result in their being fined $50 plus towing charges and costs, Arrowood said.

"These junked cars are a menace to the health and safety of our residents as well as causing a problem of littering," Arrowood stated. "We must get these cars off the street if we are going to clean up the streets of our township."

Man Convicted In Fight Case

Bucks County Judge Paul R. Becker this week sentenced a 21-year-old Levittown man to 45 days to a year in prison for assault and battery on another man in Bristol Township last October.

Henry Schultz, 64 Kingwood Lane, was convicted by a jury of beating John B. Watts, 75 Ironwood Road, Levittown.

The altercation took place at 4:30 a.m. on Oct. 11 inside the Five Points Diner, Levittown. Watts, according to Bristol Township police, was knocked to the floor, as he went to the assistance of the diner's night manager, Edie Hellings who had been grabbed about the throat by Schultz.

Glad to hear John Lucisano is "on the mend" in Lower Bucks County Hospital, John, of the Tullytown Lucisanos, went into the hospital four weeks ago after pneumonia set in on top of a heart attack.

More good news, Morris DeHaven, Clara Barton School principal, back on the job and feeling "better than ever" after a prolonged battle with the virus bug.

Phil Weck, Courier-Times editorial page editor, checked into the hospital yesterday for a checkup. Hope he's back on the job pronto.

Evidently the Commonwealth isn't superstitious. The state put a 13th floor in its new office building in Philadelphia.

I was in Room 1306 the other day as the Delaware River Basin Commission approved nine long-range water projects, including the Neshaminy State Park Marina. It took the commission only four minutes to approve the nine projects.

Basically, Cable-TV (CATV) is a picture receiving system which would utilize an enormous antenna and cables running from the antenna to private homes by way of utility poles. The systems originated in areas where only one channel or weak reception was available.

In this area, CATV would serve to bring perfect pictures of New York channels without necessity of outdoor antennas. Now they are "the hottest thing in the communications field," according to some professional communications people.

Seek Franchises A number of CATV companies have approached local municipalities in the hope of gaining franchises. In return, they are offering the local governments percentages of their gross incomes, amounts that could be quite substantial if the expectations of the companies are fulfilled.

Dries Heads County College Scholarship Fund Committee

Samuel Dries, Bristol businessman and Bucks County civic leader, is the chairman of the newly formed Scholarship Fund Committee for the Bucks County Community College, Charles W. Dunn, board member and community liaison chairman, said today.

Under Dries' leadership, the committee will be responsible for acquiring scholarships from local organizations and citizens for deserving students at the College.

Several scholarships have already been established, "thanks in large part to the early and enthusiastic dedication to the College and Bucks students by Mr. Dries," Dunn said.

Honors Parents Shortly after plans began for a Bucks County Community College, Dries promised he personally would provide an annual $500 scholarship, it was reported. Sponsored in honor of his deceased parents, Louis and Eva Dries, the scholarship will be administered by the college.

including the selection of the annual recipient.

In applauding the selection of Dries, Dr. Charles E. Rollins, college president, also encouraged the establishment of this type of unrestricted scholarship. "Permitting the college to administer scholarships frees the sponsoring individual or organization from the often difficult responsibility of picking the recipient and other administrative headaches," Dr. Rollins said.

Special Restrictions "And perhaps more important, it gives the college the opportunity to distribute scholarships throughout the county on an equal basis and to make proper and just selections in line with the college's broad educational policies and objectives," he added.

SAMUEL DRIES

Dr. Rollins noted that scholarships also can be established with special conditions or restrictions. The sponsor may wish to select the recipient, the geographical area or designate the scholarship for either the academic program — which leads to further education and an eventual college degree — or the technical program.

"Any student selected by a sponsoring organization for a scholarship must naturally meet the college's entrance requirements," he said.

He also suggested that to take full advantage of the tax exemption rules of the Internal Revenue Service, scholarships should be given through non-profit organizations which have official exemption status from federal income taxes.

Citizens of Bucks County who might wish to donate a sum which is not large enough to provide for an individual scholarship are encouraged to contribute to the general scholarship fund, he said. A scholarship will be established from this fund whenever smaller contributions can be united to provide a sum large enough to create one.

For several years Dries has sponsored three annual Bucks County School scholarships in the name of his parents. He has been an outstanding philanthropist for religious, hospital and other organizations both in Lower Bucks and Trenton.

He is a director of the United Fund and board president of the Association of Retired Senior Citizens.

At Unveiling Of Plaque

Louis C. Spring Auditorium Dedicated At LBC Hospital

A new auditorium at Lower Bucks County Hospital was dedicated yesterday.

In a brief ceremony, the hospital's board of directors dedicated the new facility and unveiled a bronze plaque in memory of Louis C. Spring.

First Legacy The late Mr. Spring of Bristol was a staunch friend and generous contributor to the hospital. A lifetime resident of Bristol,

Mr. Spring was the first to bequeath a legacy to the hospital. Each year the hospital is and will continue to be the recipient of the investments designated by his will.

Mr. Spring was a former member of Bristol Borough Council and was the first president of the Bristol Recreation Board. He was connected with the William H. Grundy Co. for many years and was a trustee of the Farmers National Bank of Bucks County.

Attend Dedication Mrs. Spring, members of the Spring family and many of their friends, the board of directors and their wives were invited guests at the dedication.

Participants in the service were Rev. Stanley P. Gladfelter, rector of St. James Episcopal Church, Bristol; Paul V. Forster, president of the hospital's board of directors; E. Leslie Helwig, board member and C. Burnley White, chairman of the memorial committee of the hospital.

Auxiliary Serves Tea Following the dedication ceremony, tea was served by the hospital auxiliary.

The auditorium is located in the new wing of the hospital. It will accommodate 200 persons. The room can be divided so several hospital groups may use it simultaneously. Seminars, teaching programs, committee meetings and employee orientation programs will be conducted in this new facility.

Falls To Hold Open House

The Falls Township Board of Supervisors will hold an open house tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. to help kick off the 1965 Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Week.

The affair will be held at the municipal building, Yardley Ave., Fallsington.

On display will be highway department equipment, police department facilities, administrative offices, civil defense equipment, traffic safety program, and township recreation program.

The rain date will be the next Saturday.

500,000 Gallons Borough Seeks Bids For New Water Tank

Bids for the construction of a new 500,000 gallon water storage tank in Morrisville's fourth ward, near the sewer treatment plant, will be advertised Monday, Charles Molhollen, manager of the municipal authority announced today.

Molhollen said the construction of the tank is the second step in a long range program to alleviate the borough's water problems. The first step, installation of water meters, is nearly complete, he added.

He said the estimated cost of the elevated tank would be about $125,000. The tank would be used for water storage and use in times of emergency.

Problems

The borough's water problems have plagued the community for many years and council's adoption of the water meter plan, although opposed in some quarters, is expected to aid in the solution of the problems.

Molhollen said the third step would be the construction of a new water filtration plant. He said no date has been set for such construction, but it was hoped it could be accomplished in the near future.

The bids for the tank construction work will be opened May 25, at 4:30 p.m. at the next meeting of the authority, Molhollen said. He declined to say when the construction would be completed, saying it is impossible to determine until the contracts are let.

PLANS TO CONTINUE

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Ryan Aeronautical Co. Thursday announced it plans to continue development of its XV5A vertical takeoff and landing airplane despite a fatal crash.

"The project will keep right on going," a Ryan spokesman said.

Stradling Is Chosen Man-Of-Year

Maurice Stradling of Woodside, a member of the Woodside Presbyterian Church for more than 50 years, has been chosen "Man - Of - The - Year" by the Men's Association of the church.

Stradling, a trustee for 10 years, was cited for his outstanding work in both community and church activities at ceremonies this week in the Christian Education Building.

A former farmer, Stradling, a Fallsington resident, is the church custodian.

Married to the former Mable Jamison of Yardley, their wedding in 1920 was the first to be performed in the church. They have a son, Robert of Wilmington, Del. and three grandchildren.

Participating in the award ceremonies were Rev. George E. Hollingshead, pastor; Eugene Hoffman, association president and David Woodcock.

Rathgeber Will Speak

Gerald Rathgeber, Fallsington, a fourth grade teacher at Manor Elementary School in Levittown, will be a guest speaker at the seventh annual conference for Pennsylvania Council Teachers of English.

The southeastern district conference will be held tomorrow in the Philadelphia College of Textiles and Science. The theme will be "The Immortal Power of Language."

Rathgeber's topic will be "Interest and Appreciation of Poetry in Elementary Schools." He is the only representative from Bucks County.

Other subjects to be discussed at the conference are fiction, expository writing, drama, reading, speaking and writing on the secondary and elementary levels.

CONFERENCE OPENS

ATHENS, Greece (UPI) — A three - day conference of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's parliamentarians opened Thursday with conferences on means of bettering East - West relations.

Maurice Stradling (center), chosen as "Man-of-the-Year" by the Men's Association of the Woodside Presbyterian Church, is congratulated by Eugene K. Huffman (right), president and Rev. George E. Hollingshead, pastor, as he receives a plaque.

Sunday Set For Ground Breaking

Ground will be broken Sunday at 3 p.m. for the new church of St. Ignatius, at Reading Ave., Lower Makefield Township.

Rev. Edward A. Stapleton, pastor, will break ground for the new church, with the aid of representatives of the architectural firm of Dagit Associates of Philadelphia and the builder, P. Agnes, of Philadelphia.

No date has been set for completion of the structure, which will seat 1,200 persons, Fr. Stapleton said.

'Can Can Dancer' Organizes Drive

Mrs. John A. Beres is a woman of varied talents. Fresh from a two-day "stand" as a can-can dancer, she's setting into a big organizing job — the job of enlisting volunteers for the "MS Hope Chest" appeal in Morrisville.

Mrs. Beres, who lives at 289 Barnsley Ave., in that community, "can-canned" in the chorus of the "Gay 90's Review" last Saturday and Sunday in the Holy Trinity Church parish hall. The affair was staged to benefit the building fund.

Hope Chest funds will be used by the Eastern Pennsylvania Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society to give direct aid to needy victims of the mysterious crippling and to finance research.

The society also maintains a counseling and referral service and sponsors the "MS Hope Club of Bucks County" to provide recreation and companionship for MS victims.

"The society," Mrs. Beres points out, "is the only organization dedicated solely to providing aid to MS patients in Bucks County."

Forty percent of Hope Chest funds is forwarded to the national society, in New York, to finance research on a national scale.

"We need many volunteers," Mrs. Beres reports. "Anyone who has an hour or two to give to help control this cruel crippling may call me any day, after 5 p.m., at CYprus 1-7200."

Calls will be accepted also by the co-chairman, Mrs. George Sweeney, of 545 Prospect Ave.
